

DEPENDS ELKINS
AS PARTY'S MOSES

C. D. Elliott Resents Reflections Upon Senator.

WRITES CIVIC REFORM LEAGUE

United States Marshal Asserts that Cries of "Machine" Emanate from Corporations Which Have Been Compelled to Pay Their Just Taxes Under Republican Laws.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 6.—In a letter to the National Civic Reform League, which he has just made public, United States Marshal C. D. Elliott, one of those mentioned in the report of the league a few days ago, comes out in defense of United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, whom he praises as the "Moses of the Republican party" in West Virginia.

The letter was made public today by Mr. Elliott, following the report of the National Civic Reform League. It was written in response to a letter regarding West Virginia politics. The letter, in part, follows:

Defends Senator Elkins.
"Dear Sirs: Yours of December 23d has been carefully read, and with much interest.

"I feel that it is my duty to answer same in so far as I have personal knowledge, inasmuch as you cast serious reflections on some of our very best citizens, Senator S. B. Elkins, in particular. "These reflections, I take it, are based on ex parte evidence or information emanating from those who have failed to secure his approval, either in a political way or in some 'get-rich-quick' scheme.

"A bit of political history of West Virginia covering the past twenty years may shed some light on the help in aiding you to reach proper conclusions.

"Twenty years ago, when S. B. Elkins came into this State he found the Republican party without aggressive leadership, having had his candidate for governor counted out by ballot-box stuffing of the gravest nature imaginable. Intimidation and strong-arm tactics prevailed. To be a Republican during those days in West Virginia meant social and political ostracism. The party demanded a leader with the mentality of a Blaine and the physical courage of a Roosevelt.

"Moses of the Party."
"S. B. Elkins with one accord was chosen as the Moses of the party. Its young and virile element, men who could look calmly into the muzzle of a gun and meet all comers on the hustings, rallied under his banner. At this time the tactics of the Democracy were to discredit this new, aggressive leader, and their press and speakers charged him with all the crimes on the calendar, all of which were without foundation, and these same tactics continue to this day, as the Democrats fully realize that they cannot hope to gain control of the State so long as Mr. Elkins is in the saddle.

"The first victory came to this leadership in 1894, and Mr. Elkins, without a dissenting vote, was rewarded by being elected United States Senator from West Virginia, as has been done twice since. "Four Republican governors have been elected in succession, all able, high class men, who are the most active of those who fought the battle under the Elkins leadership. With these successes came the responsibility of dispensing patronage, a few places only for scores who felt that they were deserving. As a result, bickerings have been abroad in the land, but this trouble never has amounted to more than a temporary flurry had it not been for other causes.

Corporations Cry "Machine."
"The Republican party on taking charge of the State found an antiquated system of taxation, the great corporations were not paying their share of the burdens of the State, and this new leadership sought to remedy these evils.

"Every man and a majority of the corporations who had their taxes increased under the new laws enacted began to howl 'machine' and 'boss rule,' and most of the attorneys referred to with corporation connections joined in the refrain. "As a matter of fact, the 'Elkins machine' you refer to is a myth, pure and simple, existing only in the minds of those who would not give power to the present dominant party and those who have failed to catch on to the 'boss leader.' "Senator Elkins is a 'bossless leader' who accords to his fellow-workers within the party the privilege given to every American citizen, that of thinking for one's self.

Prates Gov. Glascock.
"As to whether or not Federal officeholders in West Virginia were politically active during the last campaign depends upon the viewpoint taken. I am not in a position to speak for all of them, but that they do not all worship at the same shrine is certain. The list of Federal officeholders who were members of the State central committee early in 1908, which you submit, is correct, and, barring the writer, are as talented and competent as any list of Americans can be found in any State. William E. Glascock, whom you refer to, is our governor-elect, the son of honor, a 'Hughes' fearless in doing the right as he sees it.

"In conclusion, allow me to suggest that there is no 'tollgate zone' in the politics of West Virginia; we have not yet reached that state of political civilization. I am confident, however, that much misleading information has been strewn as to the political morals—accusations have been made that had no foundation in fact—and when your committee classes Mr. Elkins as a 'machine'.

CHAMBERS IS CAPTURED.
Slayer of Town Marshal Is Taken at Bristol.

Bristol, Va., April 6.—Will Chambers, the negro who last Saturday night shot Town Marshal Calloway to a pistol dead at Erwin, Tenn., was captured here today. He tried to shoot Policeman W. S. Wicks, but the latter's wife knocked his arm up, and he was about to pull the trigger of his pistol, and the shot went wild. Wicks knocked him senseless with a club. He will be taken back to Erwin as soon as the authorities there are prepared to protect him from the threatened lynching.

IN THE COAL FIELDS
Rogers and Party Inspecting Mineral Properties.

Spend Night at Princeton

Special to The Washington Herald.

Roanoke, Va., April 6.—Henry H. Rogers and his party left this morning for the coal fields of West Virginia, where his road, the Virginia Railway, has its mines. Mr. Rogers will to-morrow show his associates the extent of the coal acreage, from which he expects to supply the markets supplied by the Virginia product.

There are three counties in which the Rogers coal acreage is located. These will be examined—that is, as much of the ground as possible will be covered. The night will be spent at Princeton, the mountain division point, and arrangements made there for the return of the party to the East.

To Eastern Coal Markets.
That the Virginia Railway expects to get into the coal markets of the East at once is indicated by the amount of new equipment which has been ordered for delivery at the earliest possible moment. Already the new company has a nucleus in its rolling stock which it felt heir to in the absorption of the old Deepwater Railway, which was operated in West Virginia before the Virginia was conceived.

At present the company has 500 forty and fifty ton coal cars. Most of these are lettered "Deepwater," and all of them are needed at this early period to convey the coal from the mines to tidewater at Seaside Point, Va. In addition there are 1,500 box cars and stock cars now in commission on the new road. Twenty-one engines are pulling the present equipment, and these are obviously inadequate at this stage in the history of Mr. Rogers' property.

Over 1,000 Coal Cars.
Orders have already been placed for 1,200 all-steel fifty-ton coal cars of the drop-bottom hopper type. The delivery of these will begin the latter part of this week, and from fifteen to twenty-five a day will be put into commission until the order is filled. This will give the Virginia 2,000 coal cars, with a total capacity of 100,000 tons. This gives the company a possible delivery capacity of 10,000 tons a day at Seaside Point, allowing ten days for a round trip movement of each car. This delivery is only 60 per cent of the total capacity of the new coal pier when running only ten hours a day.

ticket, which was nominated at a meeting of citizens, irrespective of politics, followed: Mayor Thomas Gillette; assistant mayor, Robert J. McCandless; councilmen, Frank R. Beard, George Anthony, and William H. Dodson. Mr. Gillette is a merchant and has already served as a councilman. Mr. McCandless is cashier of the First National Bank.

Norfolk, Va.—Norman E. Hanger, a large Newport News druggist, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $7,200 and assets at $9,500, the latter including a valuation of $3,000 on his stock and fixtures. There are numerous Baltimore creditors.

Salisbury, N. C.—Following a receivership into which the property of the Yadkin Valley Fair Association fell two months ago, the grounds and other holdings of the association were sold at auction here to T. L. Vandford. The consideration was $16,000. It is stated that arrangements are being made for another big fair here this fall.

Rockville, Md.—The Social League of Montgomery County, recently organized here, is arranging to hold meetings in various sections of the county in an effort to interest the people in the treatment, cure, and prevention of tuberculosis. It is understood that a tented sanatorium will be established near Rockville, and that a trained nurse will be placed in charge.

Monongah, W. Va.—United States Fish Commissioner George W. Bowers has written the county clerk that he will stock the upper Monongahela River with black bass this spring. Thousands of the little fish will be placed in the river.

Bristol, Va.—John L. Bond, a merchant of Kingsport, Tenn., was held up by two highwaymen at the point of pistols. They marched him to a place of woodland and robbed him of $60 in cash, a bank certificate for $70 and notes to the amount of several hundred dollars, then with ropes tied him to a tree and fled.

He succeeded in extricating himself and immediately telephoned to Bristol for bloodhounds. Bond states that the men were strangers at Kingsport. He had observed them loitering in the community for several days, but supposed they were members of a bridge crew on the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railway.

Frostburg, Md.—Charles Leatham, aged sixty-four years, former mayor of Frostburg, died yesterday from erysipelas. He was elected mayor of Frostburg one year ago on the Republican ticket, and he resigned after one meeting of the council. He was a native of Cornwall, England, but had been a resident of Frostburg for a number of years. He had been form of the Eckart mines of the Consolidation Coal Company.

Petersburg, W. Va.—At a public meeting here, a committee was appointed to wait on the county court and ask for a special election of the voters of Milroy district, to be held May 15, to decide whether to guarantee $50,000 of the proposed issue of bonds for the building of a railroad through the South Branch Valley of the Potomac, from Romney via Moorefield to Petersburg.

Lonaconing, Md.—There is no doubt in the minds of the authorities that the fires which have been occurring in Lonaconing in the past few years are of incendiary origin. The last big fire which destroyed the Moran Opera House and several other buildings, doing over $50,000 damage, is believed from evidences discovered to have been started by incendiaries. It has been discovered that an attempt was made to burn the stable of the Lonaconing Ice Company.

Roanoke, Va.—It is now planned to establish a passenger train service between Roanoke and Charleston, W. Va., on the Virginia Railway. The train will operate over the Virginia line to Deepwater, Va., where it would switch to the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks, on which it will make the run to Charleston, about twenty-two miles distant. This line will shorten the traveling distance about two-thirds between the two cities. The passenger coaches on the Virginia are painted orange, the same color as is used by the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Norfolk, Va.—Rev. E. E. Dudley, of Norfolk, recently engaged in evangelical work, has accepted a call to the First Baptist Church at Jonesboro, Ark.

Suffolk, Va.—The trial of Bertha Holt, charged with killing Reuben Delk, his father-in-law, has been set for next Thursday at the Isle of Wight Court House.

Hancock, Md.—There was but one ticket in the field at the municipal election held at Hancock, this county. This
